A German inventor has patented a caterpillar extirminator. The apparatus is of simple construction, consisting principally of a series of brushes which sweep the caterpillars from the leaves into a number of wooden spouts or tubes, from which they fall into a common receptacle. The whole is fastened to a cross-beam and is fitted up so as to admit of being drawn by a horse or ox.

The apparatus hitherto made have each seven of the wooden tubes, and these are drawn along and clear of insects seven rows of turnips, beets, or other roots at a time. Near Halle lately an extirminator has been at work, and has given an average result of from six to eight bu-hels of caterpillars a day. Professors Marcker and Wilt and Dr. Deffus, of the Agricultural College of Halle, speak highly of the value of the performance of the machine. On one farm ten machines were employed and cleared over fifty hectares a day. On the estate of Merbitz, near Halle, in a single day there were collected, by help of the machines, twenty-eight sacks of the insects, each sack containing on an average fifty kilograms, or about one hundred weight. The result of one day's work on a single farm was, therefore, nearly a ton and a half of most voracious caterpillars. As to the approximate number of insects taken on this occasion, there could not, at a moderate calculation, have been fewer than a million, and if they had been allowed to live and only half of them had laid 100 eggs each, they would have produced within six weeks' time a progeny of no fewer than 50,000,000 caterpillars. The next generation—and there may be three generations in a single summer—would have numbered 2,500,000,000.

Our Brazilian Trade.
[New York World.]

American manufacturers who desire to extend their trade in Brazil may be pleased to hear that the committee which was appointed at the Cooper Institute last spring, has concluded its correspondence with the Brazilian Government and think that it has succeeded in obtaining all the requisite facilities for a fine exhibition in Brazil of American goods and manufactures. The Brazilian Government will furnish a suitable building for the exhibition without charge, and the committee has been informed that Brazil will admit goods for the exhibition free of duty. The agent of the committee, Mr. Julius H. Pratt, sails to-day on the City of Para to complete the necessary arrangements. He will return in February next in time to send out the goods for the exhibition. Mr. Pratt takes with him a large shipment of American manufactures for the exhibition.

A Baltimore drummer bought a railroad through ticket to Atlanta, and stopped over at a point on the Georgia Road, to test the right to do so. To make the issue definite, he compelled the conductor to eject him forcibly, when he again boarded a train, and he has brought a suit against the road for $20,000 damages.

The forest near Dillon, Kansas, has an uncommon hermit in the person of a young and not ugly woman, who lodges in a rude hut, eats vegetables and game of her own getting, and will not say a word to persons who intrude upon her. It is conjectured that she is insane; but aside from her lonely mode of life, there is nothing in her conduct to sustain that belief.

It is announced in our dispatches that a Convention of Hay Fever Refugees was held at a mountain resort in Vermont yesterday. We have not seen the platform adopted by the sufferers nor the ticket placed in the field, but if Henry Ward Beecher isn't the nominee for President the new party can go to grass so far as we are concerned. Boat Hands' Gossip.
Business dull.

The Lucy E. Gastrell, with a lot of New Orleans freight aboard, is still here, and in the hands of the law.

Captain Armstrong has made arrangements to carry excursionists to the Exposition this month from Evansville for $6 for the round trip, and will grant reduced rates from intermediate points.

The Adriatic is loading for the Tennessee River, and announced to leave to-morrow. She is setting up an excursion from Florence to the Exposition.

The James D. Parker is due from St. Louis this evening.

The Bora Cabler and Vint Shinkle will pass Evansville to-day, going down.

The coal that went down in the river has touched bottom prices. [New Orleans Picayune.]

During the Exposition, which begins next Wednesday, the White Collar Line of Boats will carry passengers to Cincinnati from Ironton and return for $4 each; round-trip ticket having coupon attached, which will admit the holder to all parts of the Exposition.

The Leflore is industriously pulling snags and logs out of Snufflower River, and up to this time has done a great deal of service and improved navigation in that stream very much. We understand from river men that the Leflore's work has been very satisfactory.

The Steubenville Gazette says: "Captain George O'Neal goes to Cincinnati on the Bachelor to-day in place of Captain Wintinger, who is indisposed and remains at home, and Pilot Henry Haney takes charge of the Abner O'Neal. Captain Tom McDonald, of this city, is taking advantage of the Bachelor's trip to Cincinnati in order to post himself up a little on the bottom of the river and the locations of wrecks. Mr. Carlton Cable is the only steamboat pilot left in the city now, and if we do not have a rise soon, he will probably turn out and stump Ohio for Evans and Rice."

The river was falling this morning, with 7 feet in the channel.

This morning's Louisville Courier-Journal says:

"An old lady going aboard the Cabler yesterday remarked that 'the gal that was a playin' the piano was givin' her fits, for I hear it up town 'fore I got here.' It was Bud manipulating the callopie."

"The lightning Pittsburgh passed up yesterday morning early from St. Louis. She made quick time, and left here at 10 o'clock. We don't wonder at it. She put off three hogheads of tobacco and a mile, the freight bill of which amounted to $1.30. The city charged her $7. wharfage. Thus she is fifty cents out for the privilege of landing here. A nice piece of business for a metropolitan city, ain't it? To show how it works, she had two or three hundred tons of freight and a crowd of people for Cincinnati, and for this great city she put off three hogheads of tobacco and a mile, and came out fifty cents short by landing at all. Go it, Louisville!"

"The exodus just now is into the South in full of negroes, en route from Kansas to their former homes. They say 'cotton pickin' suits 'em, and da is gwine back ter de old plantation.'"

Capt. C. B. Russell's favorite, James D. Parker, will be here to-night and return to St. Louis Wednesday, taking people and freight for all points on the Upper Mississippi, Illinois and Missouri rivers.

Steamboat Movements.
The City of Portsmouth leaves at 4 p. m. daily for Ohio and attends to all way business.

Capt. John Levis's fine large side-wheel steamer Ohio No. 4, came down and will be the regular packet, leaving this evening for Gallipolis and Pomeroy direct.

Captain O. P. Shinkle's superb new passenger and freight steamer Golden Rule is loading and will leave Wednesday for New Orleans and go through as advertised.

The Wildwood left at noon to-day for Massville.

The Clifton was in and out on time yesterday for Huntington.

County Commissioners.
The County Commissioners held a meeting to-day. Messrs. Reardon, Zumstein and Fiecke being in attendance.

In reference to the Linwood School District as to the appointment of a Superintendent, the vacancy having been filled, the case was dismissed.

A communication from Wm. J. Melanus, calling attention to the bad condition of the bridge over the branch of Millcreek, near the Wayne Road, was received and filed.

The following was received and filed and the Clerk directed to send a copy to the M. & C. Railroad Company:

"To the Hon. Board of County Commissioners: 'GENTLEMEN:—We, the undersigned, Trustees of Symmes Township, respectfully represent to your body that the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad Company, as reorganized, have in the construction of their road-bed in this township wholly appropriated the county road through the land of John Thompson and John W. Baer. In Section 22, and that they have obstructed public travel over the same by making an embankment, and have caused said travel to be wholly diverted from the original road, and that said road has been rendered unsafe and unfit for use. We therefore respectfully ask your honorable body to take such action as you may deem fit and necessary to compel the said M. & C. Road to remove the obstructions placed by them in said county road, and to reconstruct the same in as good condition as it was originally."

"THE TRUSTEES OF SYMMES TOWNSHIP."

President Haynes.
President Richard B. Haynes, who has promised to be in attendance on the opening day of our big Exposition, will be entertained Thursday night at the Highland House. The concert set for Friday will consequently be rendered that evening.
